

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE ARTICLE AND EDITING RULES

We accept only texts that have not been published before.

The articles should be about theology, religiology, Christian philosophy, canon law and related disciplines relevant to theological research.

We accept articles in Polish and congress languages.

Articles (including footnotes) may not exceed 45.000 characters (with spaces).

The submission file is in OpenOffice, Microsoft Word, or RTF document file format.

Margins should be 2.5 cm on each side.

Text must be typed in 12-point Times New Roman font throughout.

Please do not quote in the article with a different font typeface or change the width of the column. When the author intends to distinguish a word or phrase in the article, please use Italics, not underlining (except for web addresses).

The parts omitted in quotations should be marked with three dots in parentheses square: [...].

Possible drawings and tables are to be placed in the text in appropriate places (not at the end). The authors should take care to obtain permission to use in the article materials covered by copyright, such as photographs or reproductions of works of art in declare it in the AUTHOR'S STATEMENT.

Add to each text:

- abstract and list of keywords (see PRINCIPLES OF WRITING: ABSTRACT AND KEYWORDS)
- bibliography (see PRINCIPLES OF BIBLIOGRAPHY DESCRIPTION)
- a short biographical note (see PRINCIPLES OF BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE WRITING)

Please do not attach the above metadata to the text of the article but enter separately according to the instructions after logging in to the magazine page.

At the end of the article text there should be a list of abbreviations used by the author in the text or footnotes.

In order to ensure an anonymous review process (double blind review), please do not include the author's name in the headline of the article, and any of mentions that would allow the author to be identified.

Submitted works will undergo a review procedure (see <https://czasopisma.kul.pl/snt/recenzja> ). About its outcome, the content of the submitted reviews, as well as The author will be informed of the editorial decision regarding the publication.
